Nothing Could Be Finer

With a deep bow to the song writer who sang, "Nothing could be finer than to be in Carolina in the morning," our own theme song is that nothing could be finer than Pepperell Perren Sheets. Maybe the singer had in mind waking up in Carolina in a bed made up with Perren Sheets! At any rate, the Perren Sheet now being made in Biddeford is literally as fine a sheet as money can buy today, and it's being sold in enormous volume, not only in Carolina, but in every other state in the Union. It's particularly gratifying when big Fifth Avenue, New York, stores like Lord & Taylor think enough of the prestige of the Perren name to spend big money for full page newspaper advertisements like the one on the opposite page.

Mayor of Quebec Writes

Only the limitations of space prevent our reproducing for your enjoyment all the heartfelt letters of appreciation received at Pepperell following our special Quebec edition. One of the nicest came to Mr. Cook from the Mayor of Quebec. He wrote:

"Dear Sir: My good friend, Mr. W. Caron, has just handed to me a copy of your special edition of The Pepperell Sheet devoted to the Province of Quebec and its people. I have perused this publication with the greatest interest and, I may say, with emotion, as it is surely one of the finest illustrations of the life of our Province, with its beautiful scenery and its numerous historic sites.

"On behalf of the City of Quebec, Capital of this old French province and the oldest Canadian City, let me thank you for the tribute you are paying to the cradle of our Country and to the people whose ancestors have built up this great land of ours where we are endeavouring to keep the traditions that our forefathers brought here and for which they gallantly fought.

Yours very truly,
Lucien Boies, Mayor of Quebec"

Your Magazine

Once more the fine work of Pepperell Sheet reporters has been recognized with an award of excellence.

The Associated Industries of Massachusetts recently conducted a contest for company publications, and one of the few magazines selected for the highest award was The Pepperell Sheet.

Many Happy Returns

Heartily congratulations to Mme. Azilda Lavigne on the celebration of her ninety-fifth birthday! Her son, Frederick, is a lap man in Biddeford's Card Room 2-2, and he also has two sons in the card room just above him, Roland and Edgar, each of whom has been with Pepperell for over twenty-five years, besides a daughter, Mrs. Yvette Flemondeau, in the Spinning Room. So it's only natural for Pepperell to take a personal interest and pride in a grand old lady like Madame Lavigne.

She was born in Ste. Helene in the Province of Quebec, had a family of ten children, worked hard all her life, and is still running the family farm in Ste. Helene, doing all the chores herself, milking cows, feeding chickens, all the thousands of things that need to be done on a farm. Frederick admits that his mother is a better farmer than he is. Besides that, of course, she does all the cooking and cleaning, and when she has a few minutes to spare she'll be knitting or writing a letter instead of taking it easy. Madame Lavigne says that she never felt better in her life, and she attributes her good health to hard work, good food, and plain living.

Rising Star

A proud lady this fall was Mrs. Bernadette Poissant of Biddeford's Spinning Department, with two sons making a name for themselves in the football world. Maurice started on a brilliant football career at Boston College, and Raymond played for St. Louis High.

All over New England they were talking about Maurice, and the sport headlines were full of Poissant, or "Poison" as the opposing teams called him. Fourth highest scorer on the Boston College team in his freshman year, Maurice is already being looked to as one of B. C.'s future gridiron immortals. In the N. Y. U. game on November 2nd Poissant scored two touchdowns, and had a third called back by the officials. He averaged 7 yards per rush for four carries, and completed four forward passes for a total of 65 yards. In the Alabama game, he scored the winning touchdown on a 39-yard run through the center of the "Crimson Tide." He carried ten times for a gain of 62 yards per rush. Against Holy Cross he carried first for a gain of 14 yards, B. C.'s longest run from scrimmage. When the season's results were all in, Poissant proved to be B. C.'s third best ground gainer from the standpoint of his average per rush. In all he carried the ball 18 times for a 106 net. What will that boy do before he graduates!

Faraway Islands

Scenes from the beautiful Portuguese homelands of many Pepperell people.

People often talk about the things that have made America such a great country—its fertile plains, its vast forest and mines, its inventions, its freedom of opportunity. One big reason that is sometimes overlooked is the fact that the people who have left the old countries to settle here have been, on the whole, people a little above the average. Think a minute, and you will see that this is really so. Think of the courage that it took for our ancestors or our families to leave behind all the ties of home and set out for a new unknown land, the cost and good health that they had! How many men and women would there be in any group of dried people who would quit such an adventure? Not the sick, nor the unintelligent.

The PEPPER

lary or the timid. It has been the hardy souls, the workers, who have settled America, and who every year are adding to its greatness, making it very literally "the home of the brave."

If you look around the Pepperell mills, you will see on every hand examples of that kind of courage and spirit—people who have come themselves, or whose families have come, from their old homes in Italy or France or England, from Ireland, Poland, Portugal, or any of the other old countries of the world. It is always inspiring to think of courage like theirs, and interesting to look back on the homes and lands that they left. That is why we try to show in the Pepperell Sheet from time to time pictures of the home countries of these new Americans. This month we will visit in pictures the beautiful islands of the Azores, Madeira and Portugal, homes of so many Portuguese Americans who work in Pepperell's Fall River mill.

First Stop

The Atlantic Islands were in a way the first stop on the road to the discovery of America. It is very likely that Columbus would never have gotten this far if he had not happened to meet one day in Portugal a pretty schoolgirl from Madeira named Menina Perestrelo. He was so taken with her that he followed her to her island home, married her, and made his home in Madeira for many years. Menina's father happened to be a mariner, and it was from him that Columbus first acquired an interest in seafaring adventures, learned to understand charts, and started dreaming of the lands beyond the sea.

Madeira is one of the most beautiful Atlantic Islands, with its steep shores covered with luxuriant tropical foliage, its snow-capped mountain peaks and wild rushing waterfalls. It's only about 33 miles long by 15 miles wide, but it's surprising how many Pepperell people have come from that little island. For example, there is Joao Marques, a new and most welcome arrival; one of our star reporters for the Pepperell Sheet, Marie Pestana, came over when she was a little girl; and there are many, many others now making a name for themselves in Pepperell.

One Step Nearer

The Azores are one step nearer America, but they're still 2,500 miles away from New York. The whole group of islands covers an area a little smaller than our state of Rhode Island, and has a population only about twice the size of Fall River, but it seems as though every other person you meet in Fall River comes from one of the islands or another. Probably the greatest number come from St. Michael's, which is the largest island, but you also meet people from St. Mary, Formigas, Fayal, Pico, St. George, Terceira, Graciosa, Flores and Corvo. What beautiful names they are! You can almost see the lovely flowering shrubs and fruit trees, feel the warmth of their balmy sunshine.

From St. Michael's there is, for instance, Joao Pereira, or Johnny Perry as they call him in the mill, who has only been over here two years, but likes it so much that he's going to bring his father over next summer. And there are Frank Viveiros, and Joao de Sousa, and Maria Sousa, and hundreds of others. Still other Portuguese Americans have come to us from Brazil, like Alfredo Paolo, or from the mainland of Portugal, like Manuel Pedrosa, whose picture, with his pretty daughter Natalie, is on this month's cover of The Pepperell Sheet. Manuel came over to this country when he was 21, and since that time has held down good jobs with several companies, including General Motors in Tarrytown, New York, where he built front seats for cars. He came to Pepperell in 1942, and says that he's through moving. He likes the company and he likes his boss, Mr. Twaddle, and he says, "They're nice people, in Pepperell, and if they'll keep me I'll stay the rest of my life."

Americans Now

It's wonderful to hear these new Americans talk about their home lands, and tell old stories of their childhood, but there's no missing the fact that they're strictly Americans now. As Manuel Pedrosa said in telling about a trip that he made back to Portugal a few years back, "Sure, I like it over there—I like it fine. But this is my country now!"

Lyman Hibbard Smith, recently appointed General Manager at Biddeford

New Manager At Biddeford

Lyman Smith Assumes New Position January 1

THE appointment of Lyman Smith as new General Manager of the Biddeford mill is one more good reason to bank on the future of Pepperell in Biddeford. Mr. Smith, although still a young man, has been with the company throughout his business life, and by his record has demonstrated that he possesses the qualities of judgment, experience and leadership needed for such an important position.

Mr. Smith was born in Marblehead, Massachusetts, where his father was in the boat building business. Growing up in such a family, it was natural that he should acquire a love of the sea, and his idea of real happiness is still to be out on the water, handling a boat. His knowledge of sailing was a great aid to him in financing his way through college. There was always work to be done on boats at Marblehead, and when he entered Harvard College he supplemented his summer earnings by working around Cambridge, waiting on table, doing janitor service, making beds and cleaning house. After graduating from college he went right down to Pepperell's Boston office and applied for a job, and got it. That same year he married Miss Thelma Sundlie, of Arlington, Mass., who was working in Boston as a commercial artist.

Starting in at the Pepperell mill in Fall River, he put on overalls and helped out in one department after another, the Opening Room, Picker Room, Card Room, etc. In 1933 Pepperell chose a few promising young men to study Business Administration at Harvard Business School, and Lyman Smith was one of those chosen for the intensive six months' course. His next move was to the New York Office, where he worked in the Mill Department under Mr. David Cook. It was a valuable education for a future mill manager, because the Mill Department coordinates the manufacturing and selling of all the Pepperell Mills, translating the requirements of the Sales Department into terms of mill production, assorting the production as to widths, styles and colors, keeping inventory records, and so on. Later, when Mr. Cook was in Biddeford and needed an assistant, he asked to have Lyman Smith transferred to Biddeford. That was in 1942, and since that time Mr. Smith has taken an active part in managerial duties, working very closely with Mr. Cook.

Life in Biddeford

It was typical of Lyman Smith that he took up with enthusiasm not only his new work but his new life in Biddeford. One of the first things he did was arrange to take lessons in French from Mlle. Thivierge, because he was meeting so many French people in Biddeford that he thought it would be helpful. Hearing from his new friends about the beauties of the Province of Quebec, he decided to take his family up there on a camping trip. The French lessons came in handy, but he says he still hasn't learned how to ask a Quebec farmer in French whether it's all right to pitch a tent on his land. Both he and Mrs. Smith were so impressed by the beauty of the French Canadian countryside and the lovely old stone houses that they hope to go back again some summer and spend more time there.

The Smiths have two little boys, Charlton, who is 8, and Gerald, who is 4, more commonly known as Carl and Jerry. Both boys are already enthusiastic sailors, and on fine summer weekends the whole family take to the water in their 14-foot catboat.

As Mr. Smith takes over his new duties with the New Year, Pepperell people in Biddeford may look forward confidently to a continuation of the policies of good business and fair dealing which have made Pepperell what it is today, and so a sound leadership through the years that lie ahead.

Curtain 7

And the curtain is going up on big things for Fall River business as new selling policy goes into effect on Pepperrell's lovely Marquisettes.

Top row, left to right—Mrs. Alida Lund, marquisette weaver, and her husband have both been with Pepperrell for ten years. They have three sons, the oldest just back from the service. Marilda Lavoie, sixteen years with Pepperrell, says warping for marquisettes takes extra careful work, because of the open weave. Alice Nemes, nineteen years old, is a warper's helper. Walter Jeffrey adjusts spinning frames to ensure even yarns, says it's especially important for marquisettes, because the yarn has to be stronger. He owns his own home in Dartmouth, has a married daughter and three grandchildren. Lower row — Edna Taylor in the Cloth Room likes to inspect marquisettes, because it's easy to spot any defects. Mary Monix is a rayon twister, for rayon marquisettes, likes the work because it's nice and clean. Ann Clancy, in the foreground, and Beatrice Bolduc, smiling in the background, are inspecting marquisettes for broken picks or oily filings, to maintain Pepperrell quality standards. Clifford Johnson, back from Navy duty that included plenty of action, is a bale sewer. This roll is now ready for delivery to a customer.

Pepperell Time-

The first of the season's crop of peppers was harvested on the 1st of September. The crop was very good and the quality was excellent. The peppers were all of the same size and shape and were very uniform in color. The crop was sold at a very good price and the farmers were very satisfied with the results. The weather was very good and the crop was well cared for. The farmers were very happy and the crop was a great success.

SHEETING SLASHING

REPORTER: Brother Dunes

¶ Fred Thibodeau has been flashing a big, loud grin for the past few weeks. The reason? He's having with pride on the arrival of a granddaughter. The little miss was born in October way down in Chile, and her daddy is Fred's son, Paul.

¶ Now here is a man who'll make any woman a good husband — except he's taken. Picture him seated coolly on a makeshift stool in B-5 humming a catchy tune while he sews a button neatly in place where it will do the most good. There you have a perfect example of a well-managed male. Is it not so, Dick?

¶ Best of luck to Alphonse Pave, our new team worker on the second shift.

¶ We see little of two of our former first shift men these days. Elmer Clark and Romeo Rodriguez were punchy the clock at 11 P. M. instead of 2 A. M. Ah, no! Such honor as our golden-haired Adonis brought among the weavers (y) sex when he leaped himself away to the third shift! And yet, he gave them never a passing thought.

¶ Henry Murphy is with us as star man in A-5B, having replaced Elmer Clark when Elmer went trading a slasher on the third.

¶ No, Rose, you can't make cabbage salad out of those two things you're carrying. They're your fingers, my dear!

¶ Eddy St. Michel is busy as usual, garaging his little ones (Bertrien) so young for the winter. That boy can do anything. Latest is, he's about ready to hang out his shingle as an M. D. His first patient was our own neighbor, Alphonse! Seem Alphonse got a splinter or something in him, notwithstanding!

¶ Which brings me to the real sensation of the month. What Carson, our harness dealer, got, shouldn't happen to a dog! It appears that he was observed in a strange performance. Have you ever tried taking a slasher while sitting down and—almost—fully clothed? Well, Carson did, and my, was he surprised at the result!

¶ Joe Boyer's son, Conrad, arrived home the last part of November after eighteen months' absence. He sailed from Italy. Joe is as happy as a clams!

¶ Our Emma doesn't believe in being old-fashioned. She's always willing to try anything new. So it was that Emma showed away an immense pile of the latest thing in synthetics when she went home at night. She couldn't wait to put it to the test. Poor Emma! It was so infernally hard to get used to this new, scientific wonder, that persistence is, her middle name. She struggled and she gugged day after day. Finally, after going almost the whole mile, she glowed at the label, and leaved the only thing away! After all—even the most progressive lady can never hope to get the best results with Breakless Slashing Cream!

¶ Seen at the East City Hall on Mondays — Fred Clark, Punks and Cots. The boys are right there when it comes to telling their latest fighter the fine points on how to "moulder de ham!"

¶ The social event of the month, in the Slasher Room, was Rose Gaudin's big first (excuse me—first). Rose was 31 (or older) on November 20, and a few of the boys and girls came up with a card, a cake and candy to help her celebrate. (No, Oswald, we didn't also have a "case.")

¶ Willie and Jim are about to invade the "most personal" in this column is written. One is the wily slug and one is the mighty brain and one to all the trusting little deans (whoops, I meant "deer"), who get within their range! The choir will now sing "What will the Harvest Be?"

OFFICE

REPORTER: Horace Fishbein

¶ "Life begins at 40" for Bob Sterle. He had one of the most exciting birthdays in a long time; one surprise after another. Can he stand another?

¶ And Armand Remy was remembered, too, but he's still young at heart and you wouldn't give him a day over 20.

¶ We wonder how Anne-Marie can keep her feet on the ground, let alone work every day after these slaying successes.

¶ Jean's husband, finally came home and you took a well-earned vacation. We wish you much happiness.

¶ Have you girls seen Gaby Robert's snazzy glasses? They're the acut!

¶ Birthdays, birthdays. It seems the Employment Office has nothing but birthdays these days. Betty Brown and J. Paul Koberge have both added a year to their respective ages.

¶ The Employment Office gang are congratulating Mr. Roux on his 15th wedding anniversary, and Mrs. Brown on her 20th.

¶ Wedding bells should be ringing within a few months for Bernie, if we can judge by the fancy work she's doing.

¶ By this time next year, Bob Sterle should be a golf pro. Four! (:)

¶ Greetings to Ellen, Mason and Lorraine, brother of the Payroll Department and to Lillian Dumas and Dolly Tarr of the Sheet- ing Cloth office.

It is with the deepest sorrow that we record the death of Napoleen J. Nadeau, who was a loomfixer in the Blanket Department. To his widow and family go the sincerest sympathies of his many Pepperell friends.

¶ Rumor has it that Marie is considering becoming a geologist. She can tell you that No and No's uncle was a No and No, so one would think she had a start in the right direction.

¶ Olive is enjoying her annual hunting trip. We hope she has her usual good fortune and brings home a six pointer.

¶ And did you hear about our Lady Nosed, Margot Imagine, a deer was standing there, just staring her to shoot it, and she was wishing a mere man. Was it look here or dare? she really see the deer?

¶ How does who know who is counting her whose knitting during rec. period. Who knows, some of those socks may develop sleeves!

¶ A word of warning — if any of you girls think of bringing a sandwich for lunch, don't stop at one, bring one and a half. Fred Rachel the half, then you have a whole sandwich (yourself)! And Rachel is such a little girl, what does she do with all those samples?

¶ Phil is leaving us soon for the Southland. We'll miss that ready wit of his. He has already willed his musical chair to Claire and does she make it talk!

BLANKET WEAVE ROOM

REPORTER: Rosalita and Iverna Eastman

¶ Congratulations go to Mrs. Mand's daughter, Catman, who got married recently.

¶ We must also mention the two handsome weavers who work on the first shift, George Fontaine and Maurice Angers.

¶ Who was with Claire at the Marine Ball? We are wonder—she's hiding something from us gals.

¶ Anyone who wants calendars see John, but folks—get the right kind.

¶ Merry Christmas to each and every one in 1952 and a prosperous New Year.

¶ Congratulations to Aurore Beaulieu on her wedding November 30 to Robert Belanger. Best of luck to both of you from the third shift.

¶ We welcome the new battery hands who have come to work here recently. Hope they will enjoy their work.

¶ Quite a surprise was given to Aurore recently when she was presented a set of dishes and dish towels. What do you say to that, Aurore?

¶ Jeanie, we are glad to hear that little Jeanie is better as you are able to come back to work.

¶ We wish Jean Latreux best of luck in learning how to weave. Good luck, Jean.

¶ A weaver, Gertrude Couture, had a baby girl November 15. Good luck to you, Gertrude. Be seeing you one of these days.

SHEETING CLOTH ROOM

REPORTER: Antoinette Hannah, Pauline

Demerle, Marie Joseph, Laura Allgouet

¶ A welcome to Mrs. Amanda Martineau who is back to work with us once again after a few weeks' illness.

¶ Everyone of us shares in wishing a speedy recovery to Elmer Bolduc who has been out a couple of months due to illness. May you soon be with us again.

¶ It seems as though all our girls are leaving us for the first shift. Well, Antoinette and Pauline, the gang miss you but we're glad you like it.

¶ We wish to welcome those new workers on the second shift: Mrs. Blodoin, June Goodwin and Leon Turrette. Good luck and we hope you enjoy working with us.

¶ Miss Maria Tilley was a week-end guest in Massachusetts recently.

¶ We all wish Mary Trilland who fell Armistice night and injured her left arm. Hope you will be back with us very soon, Mary.

¶ We welcome Ruth Sherry back on the second shift after a seven months' absence. Hope you'll stay with us this time, Ruthie.

¶ Hi, Emma! We put your name in this time even if we have no news to write about you. How's your jaw now that that aching tooth is out?

SHEETING WEAVING

REPORTER: Marie Normand and Terry

Lemire

¶ We are sorry to hear that Roma Chene, former weaver, has left the mill.

¶ We hear that Theresa R. has a steady boy friend now. Tell us when will it be, Terry. Don't forget to let us know.

¶ Mr. Bonkley, weaver in 10-2, was out for a short while. Glad to have you back with us again.

¶ Why does everybody always dream about Terry? Why don't you dream about Pauline for a change?

¶ Bill was out on account of his brother-in-law's death. We were sorry to hear the sad news.

¶ We wonder what happened to Mr. Sheverson and Mr. Grogan (quartz). They kept looking at each other and wondering.

¶ Mrs. D. White, driver in 10-E, is out on account of illness. Honey and get well, Diana.

¶ We have news on the second shift who were lucky in hunting. Mr. Bergeson, change-over man, killed a 4-point buck. Mr. Armand killed a 4-legged deer. He is soon back in 5-1.

¶ Business has been picking up with the Peppercell for we were out a lot of new fives around. Glad to have you with us.

¶ What happened to that deer you've been talking so much about, boy? Don't get discouraged for you might get one soon, at 1050.

¶ We hope to see Mrs. Henry Gouelin, who has been out on account of a serious illness, soon, for we miss her very much around the place.

¶ Wedding bells will soon be ringing for Miss D. Bee, as we girls heard. Lucky Jimmy!

¶ Mrs. E. Ferrasch and Mrs. A. Ferrasch went to Boston on a Christmas shopping tour.

SHEETING SPINNING

REPORTER: Pauline E. Laigues, Rose Pelletier and Annette Paulin

¶ We had among us a few newcomers. We hope they'll stay a long time. Good luck to all of you.

¶ Rita Belanger of 8-4 proved to be a good bowler, when she hit the girls' highest bowling score.

¶ Alice Mahan has left us recently on account of illness. Best of health to you, Alice.

¶ We are sorry to see you leave, Mrs. Keeney. Hope you have a good rest and will be back with us again soon.

¶ Helen McGuff has been transferred to the 2nd shift from the 3rd. Hope you like it, Helen. We miss you on the 3rd shift.

¶ Next time the train whistles, get off the tracks, Lillian.

¶ I wonder why Tom was feeling so sick and tired one night recently. We all would like to know. Tell us, Tom, please.

AROUND THE PLANT

REPORTER: Mary Seal

¶ You ought to see Adolard when he goes hunting. He's so ambitious, and he was lucky enough to get a deer.

¶ We are sorry to have lost Blanche Chabot as a bathery hand. We hope that she will get somebody to take care of her children so she can return to work.

¶ Edgar Belanger and his brother went hunting. They didn't get any. It was no fun coming home without a deer, was it?

¶ We are glad to have Yvonne Desrosiers back with us. She hasn't worked for a few years, and now she has returned.

¶ We wish to extend our sympathy to Romeo Cote on the death of his sister, Mrs. Regis.

¶ Emery Bergeson went hunting with a friend and they each got a deer, and also a nice wild-cat, too. Believe me, they had a good time hunting.

¶ We are sorry to have lost Ronald Chabot who was a bookkeeper in 10-E. We hope that he likes his new job.

¶ There is a girl in 18-E who likes to sing a lot, and you should see her dance. Boy, can she dance! Her name is Doris Candace.

¶ We hope that Annette Boies likes her new job moving on the first shift.

¶ Priscilla Baginton and Paula Cook seem to like their new jobs and they are doing good work.

¶ The girls in 13-1 have a pretty good team in bowling. It is better than the boys' team. Keep it up, girls, you are doing fine.

¶ Ralph O'Rourke is happy now. He got the girl that he wanted. I hope that you will do your best to keep her, O. R., Ralph?

¶ Laurette Morris is doing a good job on cleaning. It's hard to keep up with her.

BLANKET SPINNING DEPT.

REPORTER: Katrina and Kate Smith

¶ Now, Kate, you must realize you can't go skating on the floor, but wait for some snow in time.

¶ You had, Paquette, those rubber aprons just don't run. Better look next time.

¶ We wish you luck in your new home, Samson.

¶ Why don't you try a horse and buggy, Annette, if auto driving is so monotonous?

¶ We wish to welcome our new card reader, hope to like the job.

BLANKET CLOTH ROOM

REPORTER: Helen Estabrook, Lois Martin

¶ We are glad to welcome back Rita Laroche who was out during the summer months. We also want to welcome another member of our office staff, Mabel Gauthier, a new letter reader from Mills Beach. Do you know how to get to the Dry House yet?

¶ He was to wish Catherine the best of luck. We certainly are going to miss you around here.

¶ We hear Roland is getting married — but he hasn't found the right girl yet! How about Grand Gervais?

¶ We hope that everybody had a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year.

¶ Now that the football season has ended, Marie can sit back and relax. The last game with Denning ended quite a bit of excitement when Perry was tremendous for awhile.

¶ Bob wishes to Carmen Mand who became Mrs. Blaisdell on November 19th.

¶ Theresa Russell has left the Peppercell to make her home in South Portland as we to be with her husband who is still in the Navy.

¶ Annie Courville and Joseph Souleard attended a golden wedding anniversary of relatives in Lawrence.

SHEETING CARD ROOM

REPORTER: Marie Patterson, Rose

¶ We are sorry to hear about your loss, Jeanette. Hope to see you and your family soon.

¶ Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Desrosiers on their twelfth wedding anniversary.

¶ Our sympathy goes to the relatives of poor Jeanette, a great friend of us all. We shall all miss her.

¶ Irene Patterson has a new baby, what a lovely one. Wish out, baby, figure.

¶ What happened the other day to that young man. It seems he just found his cigar. Hide and seek with him?

¶ Maudie will just have to show us that oomph to the girls. See a girl the break.

¶ Wedding bells will soon be ringing for Rita Belanger.

¶ Marie R. visits her husband in the N. H., now that he is working. How is everything going out there, Marie?

¶ Dave S. became a grandfather a second time. Could it have been a sign of the event that was with his four broken engagements?

¶ Leon Fontaine has bought a new town. We think he has been a good weather prophet. It was just breaking through those snow-covered streets. How about it, Leon?

¶ Gerard and Charlie are working now. We are glad to welcome them back and hope they like working with us.

¶ Glad to have you back with us, Joe. We missed you while you were out of town.

¶ We have a good working with us. I think writes very nice some. And all of days in come, what do you think of it, Joe?

¶ There's a little bit of country. A farm up in the hills. Where the apple trees are blooming. And my heart quite often beats. When I think of all the children I will raise in days to be.

¶ When my present situation has no farther use to me. There's an old-fashioned time. On a small town which I love. The mountains of New England. With their fascinating hue. And the houses in the Card Room. They will whistle back to me. But they'll never, never get me. When I'm gone and I am free.

¶ Mrs. Martineau now has a new drawing frames. We know that you are glad and hope you enjoy your new work.

FALLS = SOME OF THEM HISTORIC, — ALL OF THEM PAINFUL.

EDUCATIONAL, HUH?

THE ALL-TIME "FALL" RECORD IS, OF COURSE, HELD BY ADAM!

FALLS BECAME AN EPIDEMIC WHEN ROMAN GENERAL, MARC ANTONY GOT A LOOK AT CLEOPATRA. HE FELL FOR HER, SHE FELL FOR HIM. HE FELL ON HIS SWORD, AND SHE FELL A VICTIM TO SNAKE-BITE.

NAPOLEON FELL ON HIS FACE AT WATERLOO —

— AND WAS PERSUADED BY THE LOCAL SAFETY COMMITTEE TO TAKE A PERMANENT VACATION.

MRS. SOMEWHAT GOOFY ALSO TOOK A VACATION — IN THE HOSPITAL. SHE TRIPPED ON A MISPLACED MOP AND FELL DOWN THE CELLAR STAIRS.

JOE B. CARELESS FORGOT TO CLEAN UP SOME WATER HE HAD SPILLED ON THE FLOOR. LATER ON, HE SLIPPED ON IT AND THE HEAVY BOX HE WAS CARRYING DENTED MORE THAN HIS DIGNITY.

HELEN WHOOZIS WAS TOO RUSHED TO GET SOMETHING SOLID TO STAND ON WHEN SHE REACHED FOR THE DISH ON THAT HIGH SHELF.

SO-O-O-O — SHE FELL, AND THE PARTY SHE WAS GETTING READY FOR HAD TO BE CALLED OFF.

BE CAREFUL AND AVOID FALLS. THEY ARE PAINFUL AND EXPENSIVE! NO RUSH IS WORTH THE RISK OF GETTING YOURSELF CRIPPLED FOR LIFE!
